

1. How does the peer review process work?

All submissions undergo a double-blind peer review process, where reviewers do not know the identity of the authors and vice versa. This ensures objectivity and impartiality.

2. How long does the review process take?

The review process typically takes between 4 and 8 weeks, depending on the number of submissions and the availability of reviewers.

3. Is there a publication fee?

No, publication is completely free of charge, as the proceedings are open access.

4. How do I prepare and submit my paper?

By following the author guidelines, papers should be submitted electronically through the submission form available on our website.

5. Do published papers receive a DOI?

Yes, each paper is assigned a unique DOI to facilitate identification and citation.

6. Who are the reviewers and how are they selected?

Reviewers are international experts in relevant fields, selected by the editorial board.

7. How can I track the status of my submission?

You can request an update on the status of your paper by contacting the editorial office via email.

8. What is your policy on plagiarism and research ethics?

We enforce a strict policy against plagiarism and ethical misconduct. All papers are checked using specialized plagiarism detection software.
